Academics .... Activities .... Athletics....these are the components of our lives. As with the glittering facets of a diamond, each is a sparkling contributor to the development of our individual being. As academically we grow, we become the substance from which this jewel called life is formed. Activities are the velvet cloth which shine the gem of life. Enduring is the strength of a diamond as is the intangible quality of sportsmanship found in athletic competition. And so it is we students become that priceless jewel created in the perfect image of South Salem's ideals.

THEY GUIDE THE WAY

"Hi 'Pappy'!" is a familiar echo in South's halls as Principal Carl Aschenbrenner is greeted by his students. "Pappy" is that man taking a firm stand upon South's academic pedestal. He is the heart of our school spirit, the root of our social guidance. He is the commander-in-chief of the Roses and Dandelions Department - two important factors in the functioning of our school. Roses are "Pappy's" answer to a well-deserving student achievement, while dandelions, though rarely given, denote the unfavorable in the eyes of our overseer.

To "Pappy" we say thank you for a job well done in this 1961-62 school year.

A considerate and understanding administrator of South Salem is Mr. Neil Brown, our vice-principal. He is but one man handling with ease the duties of several. Not only has he served as the guiding light for many seniors with questions about their future education, but has devoted much of his time smoothing the problems confronting various other students as well. Mr. Brown is the man behind South's curricular system and in accordance with this, South High now may boast with confidence of unusually fine academic opportunities.

Our dean of girls, Miss Maxine Heringer, has proved time and again that efficiency experts do exist. Whether it be an individual, a small group, or the entire South Salem Girls' League, Miss Heringer is always eager and willing to offer advice and guidance and is on hand for all school functions.

As dean of boys at South, Mr. Del Ramsdell has accomplished much in the way of uniformity and organization. We are appreciative of the contribution he has made by his counseling and by his supervision of parking and traffic regulations around the campus. As it is with the dean of girls, Mr. Ramsdell also gives unselfishly of his time for student functions.

Through Mr. Harold Hauk's efforts the athletic and physical education programs of the school run smoothly. He has been in charge of the Physical Edcuation and athletic department. Since the schools beginning.

DIRECT OUR SCHOOL BUSINESS

Our dedicated school board members spend many long hours organizing our academic program and conducting the affairs of the district. Four members of the administration - Connell Ward, Purchasing Agent; Superintendent Charles Schmidt; and Assistant Superintendents, Arthur Myers and George Martin - work with the elected board members throughout the year. Through their effort, we are able to achieve our high academic standard.

ACADEMICS

Academics. . . .as academically we grow, we become the substance from which this jewel called life is formed . . South Salem High School prides itself in having high academic standards. Through the joint efforts of the home and the school, the students are able to maintain this high scholastic rating. The faculty is a major component of academics as without this help and guidance, the personality would never bloom.

It is hardly necessary for us to call attention to the unselfish and dedicated work of our South High faculty. We students are fortunate indeed to be the gainers of knowledge under such a staff of educators. Not only has this faculty gone above and beyond the call of duty in the advancement of our high scholastic standing, but have contributed also to the cultivation of our spiritual person. It is to them and their unlimited generosity that we students will always be grateful.

STUDENT CONDUCTED

Doug Morgan, as our 7th chief executive, has been instrumental in initiating a new system in student government including the Executive Council. Doug, an ardent golfer, takes a special interest in sports by helping to officiate games.

Sharron Mills, our vivacious first vice president, has been the author of our school's activities in the STATESMAN for the last 3 years. She's been the spark behind the A. S. B. assemblies and has been continually prepared to preside as president if necessary.

Andy Hill, our demure 2nd vice president, has spent many hours organizing the noon and after-game dances plus the Coronation Ball and Twirp Dance. Her ideas have made the decorations successful throughout the year.

Our school year '61-'62 will never be forgotten because Sue Bennett, our versatile secretary-treasurer, has recorded all the happenings in the Student Council minutes. Also she has kept the school calendar up to date and carried on all outside correspondence.

GOVERNMENT SKILLFULLY

A newly formed Executive Council teamed with the Student Council to help make our 1961-62 school year one to be remembered. A representative from each homeroom is elected to Student Council in the Fall. It is through this body that students practice self-government. The leadership of capable students has influenced the organization in furthering democratic ideals concerning S. S. H. S. The Executive Council planned the agenda for Student Council meetings. The members consist of a representative from each of the major departments, the class presidents, and the A. S. B. officers.

Many significant events occurred during our senior year. A new school anthem was introduced by Mr. Wally Jonhson and the A cappella choir; the team teaching program was tested in the American Problems classes; the United Fund goal was surpassed because of a $ 246.79 effort by the Senior Class.

The class of '62 has a high academic standing. As Sophomores the class scored in the top 2% of all schools in the nation of the Iowa Test. Seniors Dave Torgeson and Bill Nowack were semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Test. On the same test 12 were awarded commendations.

The seniors chose royal blue caps and gowns for graduation. Heading the Senior Class Council are Bill Hohwiesner, Laurie Bodenweiser, Mary Clark, and Jon Brack.

Mr. Richard Johnson has been Senior Class Advisor for two consecutive years. He helps students overcome school problems, plan for future careers, and prepare for college education and scholarships.

A.F.S. - THE KEY TO TRAVEL

Petra Skrobarczyk, South Salem's American Field Service exchange student from Germany, arrived at the F.P. Larson home in late August. Attending South High and meeting new friends here have brought many experiences which we hope Petra will always recall with fond remembrance.

Play us a tune, Bombo !

Argentina was the destination for Connie Long last June when she spent the summer as South's own A. F. S. representative. Her "family," the Vincenitis, along with her other new Latin American friends, have made Argentina a country to which Connie promises she will someday return.

The Class of '63 entered the halls of South Salem High with enthusiasm and expectations of the coming year. They picked up the school spirit by entering in the annual United Fund Drive with, among other things, a car wash.

Carolyn King and Steve Bauer, selected as our two finalists to vie for American Field Service exchange student, anxiously awaited for springtime and the final decision.

Another chance came for the juniors to shine by excelling on such tests as the PSAT and the National Merit Scholarship test. Rankin 99th percentile in both parts of PSAT were Bonnie Boese, Lark Brandt, Nancy Davis, Terry Gray, Laurie Lago, Kathy Nunn, and Sally Roberts.

The "middlemen" of South High, the juniors, have contributed much to the school prestige. Through their incessant activities, the juniors will strive to make their class one of the best.

GO, FIGHT, WIN, J.V.'S!

South's J.V. Rally has become an important source of school spirit for the Junior Varsity team. Their enthusiasm and backing sent the J.V.'s through the 1961-62 sports' seasons with many proud victories for South Salem.

More than five-hundred fifty "beginners" roamed the halls of South this year. This is a record number for our school.

Amid the noisy confusion, sophomores were pleasantly surprised to find a familiar face -- that of Mrs. Eleanor Ellis, formerly of Judson. Mrs. Ellis serves as counselor for the class.

Strong in the memories of the sophomores are the Iowa Tests and the United Fund drive. September 26 and 27 found the sophs in the auditorium taking the Iowa Tests. Many of them eased the tension and discomfort by relaxing with pillows and/or blankets brought from home. Third place was taken by the sophomores in the annual United Fund drive. They contributed a total of $187.40.

As all previous sophomores, we have had to start at the bottom. But we're on our way up and will reach the top in '64.

Quill and Scroll, national honorary club for journalism students, was reactivated at the beginning of second semester with 20 members from the Clypian and Sword and Shield staffs. All members are juniors and seniors who have a B average, have been recommended by their advisor, and have served one term or more on a journalism staff.

Public speaking and debate students may earn membership to National Forensics League by acquiring 25 points participating in speech events and tournaments. They must also be approved nationally. Miss Amanda Anderson, South High debate coach, advises the club, and Cathy Stone has served as president for the 1961-62 club.

The cadet teacher program has been in operation at South High since the beginning of the school and is one of the few cadet programs in the Northwest to be recognized as a full-credit course. A student must have a B average to be a cadet teacher and must have the approval of the supervisor Mrs. Halversen. Students participating in the program are assigned to various schools each semester and take part in class instruction each morning for an hour. Nearly 50 boys and girls were enrolled in this course.

PUBLICATIONS REPRODUCE SCHOOL EVENTS

A concise record of school events is the goal of the bi-monthly publications of the CLYPIAN. Mr. Baker, the staff's new advisor, assists them in establishing Clypian policies. The staff strives to produce a high quality paper, which covers all aspects of school life.

A pictorial view of school highlights is preserved in the annual. The SWORD AND SHIELD staff and their advisor, Mrs. Six, gather pictures of school activities and compile them in a unified book. Sports, Activities, Classes, and Clubs sections follow a master plan devised by the editor. This plan gives the annual continuity.

Each month South Salem honors a boy and girl who have contributed to the betterment of the school with their services.

Chauni Taggart heads a Girls' League committee which selects the senior girls to receive the Girl of the Month awards. Each month is titled by a theme under which the girls are selected. Some themes were Friendliness, Cooperation, and Dependability. The girl chosen receives a corsage and a gold bracelet on which her name is engraved for the month of her selection. At the close of the year the student body elects one of the Girls of the Month to keep the bracelet as Girl of the Year.

The rotarian is a senior boy selected by the student council each month. He represents our school at weekly luncheons of Rotary International; he is selected on the basis of his service to the school.

The three local retail selling clubs: "Changemakers," "Future Retailers," and "Future Distributors" are supervised by Mr. J. M. Adams. He helps students to select jobs and supervises them on the job. The clubs are affiliated with the National Club, D. E. C. A., and the state club.

Music is the soul of man. Even earliest man needed music; he made it with the crudest of sticks and reeds. Today music has become interwoven into the pattern of our lives.

The South Salem A cappella Choir contributed their voices to America's music during this 1961-62 school year. From the first fall concert to the final Baccalaureate ceremonies the A Choir performed enthusiastically. Our own auditorium, the Salem Lions' Club, Franklin High School, and Portland's Lloyd Center were just a few of the many places the voices of the A Choir were heard.

BLUE TONES REHEARSE--Denny Nelson, Vin Fichter, Jerry Olson, Don Brown.

The Blue Tones, an all senior quartet, have entertained student and adult groups throughout the school year. With their unusual rendition of such songs as the all-popular "Blue Moon," "Old Man River", "Cool Water," and "The Battle of Jerico." A song written for the senior class of '62 was sung by the Blue Tones at the first senior assembly.

A second quartet, the Columbians, is made up of juniors who began singing as an organized group only this year. Two of their favorites have been "Has Anybody Here" and "The Animals Acomin".

One of the two girls' trios is made up of junior girls, Sue Maris Peggy Claypool, and Linda Anderson. They have used the selections "It's a Grand Night for Singing" and "No Other Love" as their preferences.

Activities. . . .activities are the velvet cloth which shine the gem of life. Reflecting the quality of South Salem's ideals, the versatility of her activities insures inrichment of daily student life. From weekend skiing, trips to French Christmas caroling, from dreamy formal dances to noon-hour doughnut sales. . .so goes our school year. Faculty and students join in keeping alive the spirit of our high school days.

THE SEASONS

Under the leadership of Kathy McIntosh, the Girls' League of South Salem has closed its doors on another year of service. A magazine subscription sale in the fall to raise money for the scholarship funds, a sweater drive at Christmas time for the girls at Hillcreast School, and a bookstore which served students throughout the school year were but a few of the league's activities. Miss Maxine Herringer, the dean of girls, has been the advisor for the Girls' League's busy year.

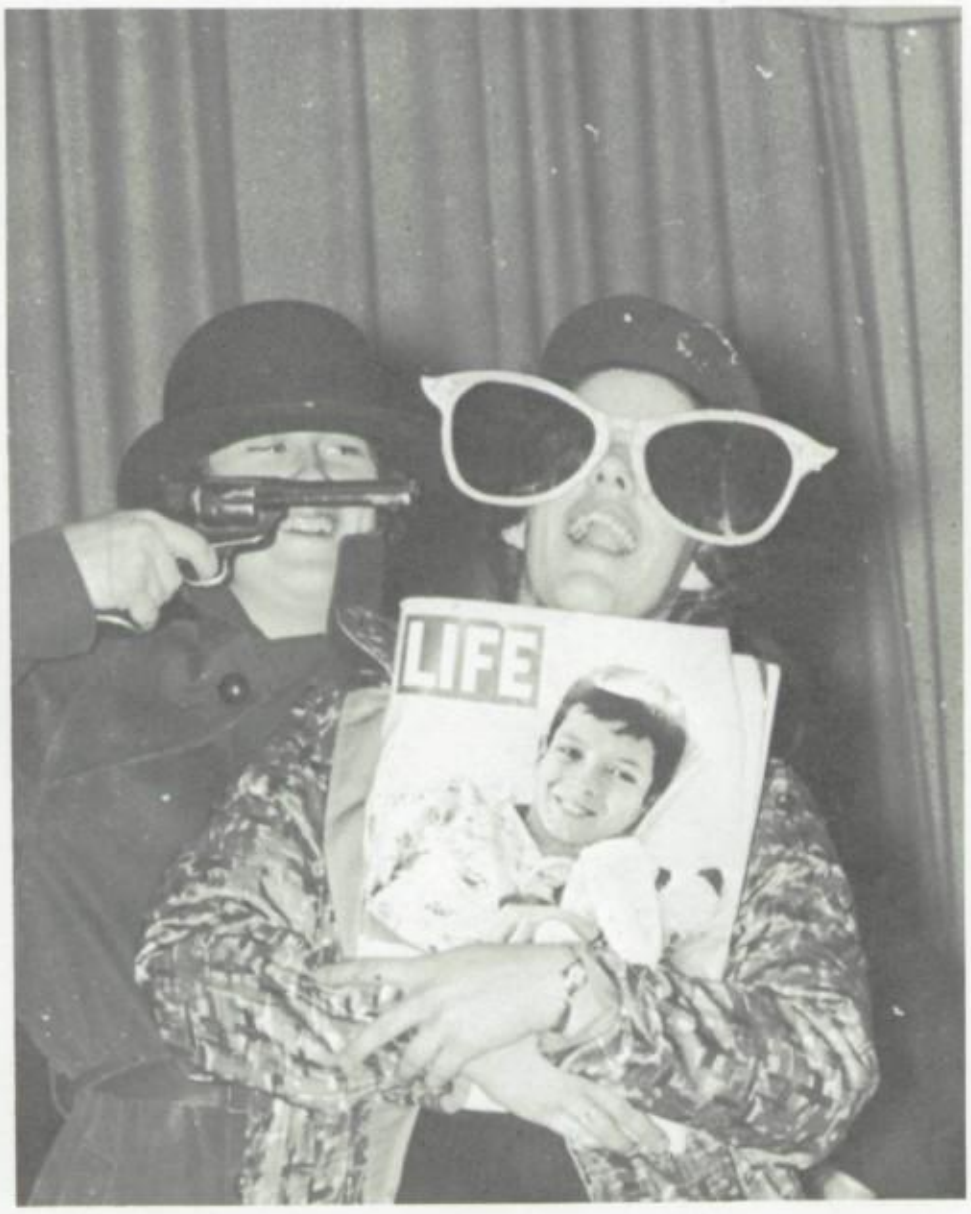

"Stick 'em up or your LIFE! "

The bookstore, directed by Mary Prine, with the help of Rosemary Bickell and Margaret Meier served customers Carol DeCamp and Faye Butler.

Much time was devoted to packing sweaters by Zeana Diamond and Dita Leurs under the leadership of Marile Watts.

December 22 heralded the return of graduates for the traditional Christmas Homecoming. Alums were welcomed by host Don Shur and hostess Lee Ann Schiedeman. A reception preceded a serious assembly in the auditorium under the direction of our first-vice-president, Sharron Mills. Talents of two former students, Lee Coffey and Mike Mills, were utilized in this assembly to recall old memories for grads. Evening brought to a close South Salem's reunion with the "Peppermint Prance", a dance held in the east balcony.

CLUBS INCREASE YEAR'S

New vistas of the social world are explored by students as they join a variety of clubs. The clubs range in interest from education types like math and science to the recreational clubs such as the chess and home economics.

The interest clubs meet on Tuesday during the home room period. Many of them also have outside activities.

Emphasis is placed on students joining a limited number of clubs rather than scattering their efforts in many.

MAGAZINE DRIVE SUPPLEMENTS SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Approximately $1200 towards a scholarship fund was earned by the Girls' League through the sales of magazine subscriptions in their annual magazine drive. Betsy McVay earned first prize with the sale of $146 worth of subscriptions while Leila Beaver and Judy Robinson placed second and third respectively.

INGENUITY ACHIEVES SUCCESS FOR UNITED FUND

Marabee Groom, as chairman of the United Fund Drive, and her cooperative committee, toppled their $650 goal this year. Seniors were the winning class, while the juniors and sophomores completed the final total of $789 by their contributions. A sponge throw, a talent show, a noon dance, baked foods sales, and individual offerings were the sources through which money was given.

Thanksgiving and Christmas--those special times of year when student body assemblies call for thought-provoking themes--

The Thanksgiving assembly was opened by voices of the A Choir followed with addresses delivered by Peggy Cook, Cathey Stone, and Steve Bauer, students of the speech class.

The Christmas Assembly featured a new angle this year with a more serious theme than that of previous years. Grads Mike Mills and Lee Coffey entertained, and familiar Christmas music was presented by the choir.

Anne Harvey and Sharee Ertz were chosen second and third crown princesses. Harry Wesely's orchestra provided live music for approximately 150 couples who braved Salem's first snowstorm of the year to attend the dance.

Smooth music meant smooth dancing at the Ball.

ARE MADE OF THIS

Student life has many facets besides regular classroom study. After hours young South High scholars migrate to science labs, libraries, and classrooms to seek help and conduct research. Athletes race eagerly to the dressing room, don their uniforms, and attend nightly practice. Members of the interest, honorary, and service clubs gather for their meetings during home room periods. Patriotic Saxons expound school spirit at our games and pep assemblies.

INTO THE HEART

A deluge of 144 Val-o-grams brought the 1962 King of Hearts crown to Larry Potts, lanky senior basketball player at the Valentine noon dance. Larry was flanked by Bob Schwiesow, first crown prince, and South Salem's chemistry teacher, Mr. George Birrel, as second crown prince. Girls' League messengers, dressed in red and adorned with white lace valentine banners, delivered val-o-grams first period.

GUIDE YOUTH

Hi-Y and Y-Teen activities involve many South High students. The Sno-Ball, the Cotton Ball, the Recognition Service, the Thanksgiving Service, and the Sweetheart Formal are the major events sponsored by these two groups. Bake sales and car washes are some of the money-making projects of the individual Y-Teen clubs. Y-Teens work on such service projects as tray favors for institutions, and food baskets for needy families. Hi-Y clubs combined to publish the Saxophone-Fetchadora. THUNDER, THUNDER, THUNDERATION!

Three organizations that represent the sportsmanship enthusiasm of the school are Rowdy-Dowds, Saxonettes, and National Athletic Honor Society.

The blue-shirted Rowdy-Dowd section is composed of all interested boys. They enliven basketball games by shouting clever cheers and functioning as a unified all-male rooting section. The three yell kings are unofficial leaders of the group.

The Saxonettes, a newly formed senior girls' marching group, made their debut at the Corvallis basketball game, January 12. Composed of thirty-one members they chose bright blue corduroy culots and red accessories as their official dress. Half time entertainment during the basketball season came from this group.

Boys who have excelled in athletics are members of the National Athletic Honor Society. They are lettermen with a scholastic average of B and are elected to the society by existing members.

ATHLETICS

Athletics. . . .enduring is the strenghth of a diamond as is the intangible quality of sportsmanship found in athletic competition. Meeting the many challenges of other high school teams, our athletes and rooters share in upholding South Salem's byword of honest rivalry and graceful acceptance of results. From cold crisp autumn football games through track events in the balmy spring, our school displays enthusiastic spirit in all athletic contests.

South Salem gridders opened '61 league plays on October 23 by losing to the Sweet Home Huskies, 13-0. Penalities were the big stumbling block for the Saxons, as the team lost a total of 92 yards. The Huskies made their touchdowns after a fumble by South and a punt return.

FOR GREAT TEAM EFFORT

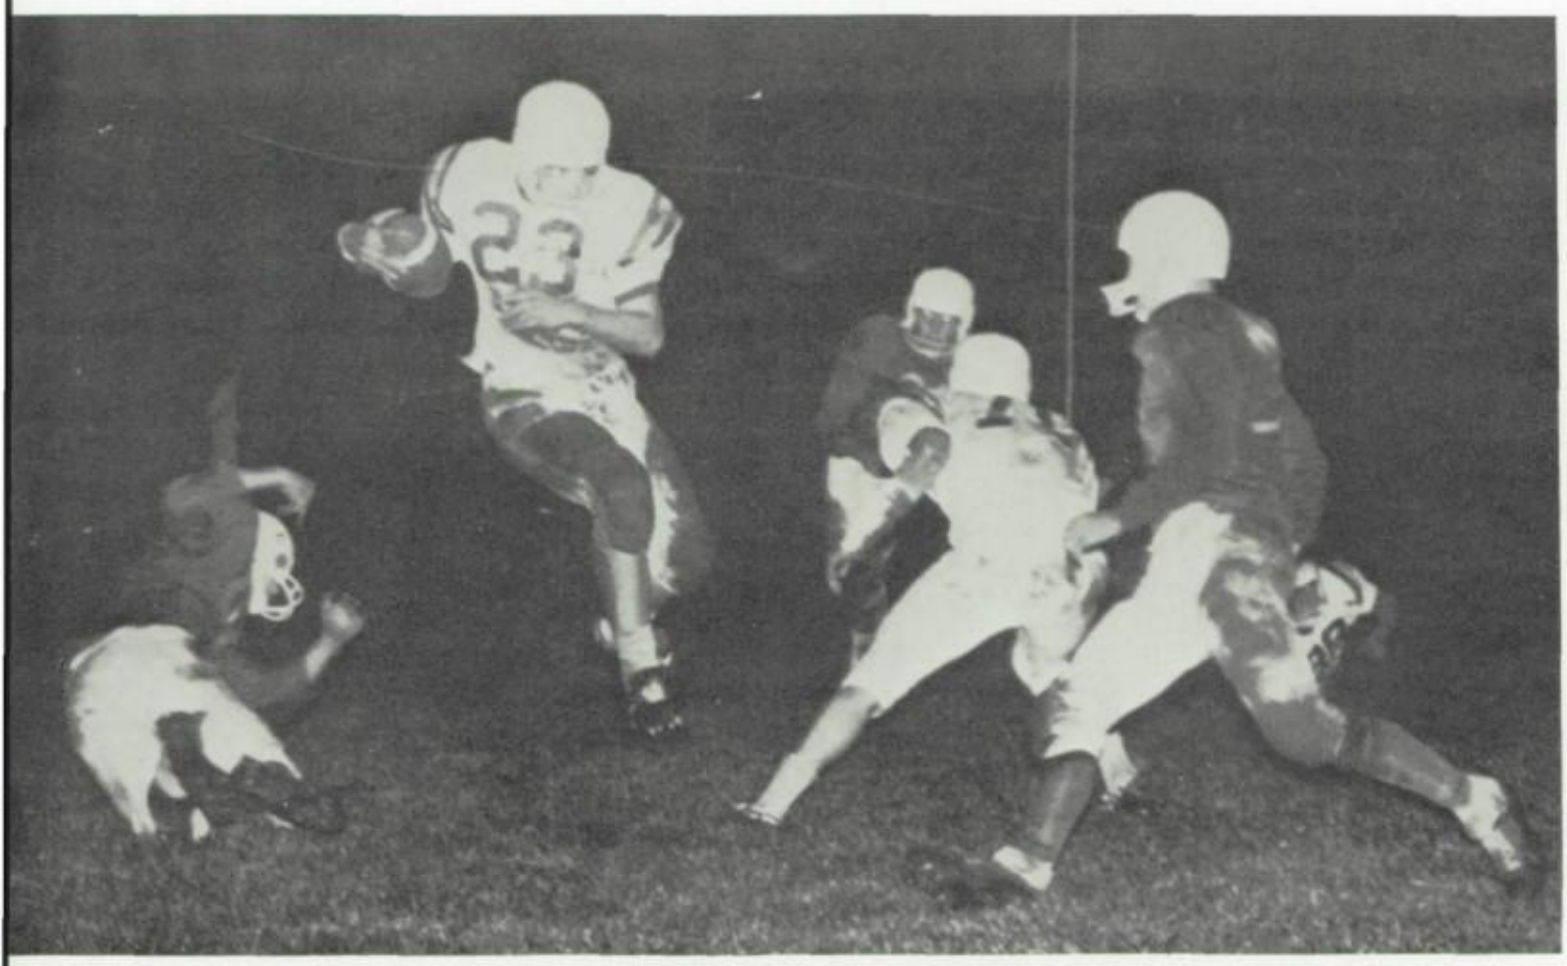

Dave Johnson threads his way through Bulldog pursuers.

The Southmen brought their district record to one win and one loss by tromping the Albany Bulldogs on October 13 A powerful Saxon offense led by Mike Mischke and Don Schur complemented by the hard tackling of our defense, paid off with a final score of 19-14. The bonejarring tackles of the Saxon defense knocked the ball from Albany's hands six times for costly fumbles.

South scored a touchdown plus the extra point for a halftime lead, but Albany came back with two quick touchdowns and extra points in the opening minutes of the second half. In five plays, with Mischke adding a 50 yard run, the Saxons once again went over the goal. The kick failed so Albany still led 14-13. An Albany fumble, recovered by Jack Sparks, gave South the chance they needed. At the beginning of the fourth quarter, the Saxons marched 72 yards to victory.

GRIDDERS IMPROVE

The Saxons added a second tally to the win column on October 20 with an easy 21-6 victory over the Lebanon Warriors.

In the second quarter, Rod Rudishauser sparked a 58 yard drive with five runs and the first touchdown. Dave Hamilton's kick made the score 7-0. As soon as the Saxons again received possession of the ball, they went over the goal in eight plays to make the score 14-0. The second half was a battle of defenses as both teams added a touchdown and South an extra point to make the final score 21-6.

BY MID - SEASON

A heartbreaking second meeting with the Spartans saw the Saxons suffer a 6-0 Defeat. Strong defenses by both teams kept this a low scoring game. OUTSTANDING PLAYERS OF '61

Lineman of the year, Ken Kool; Most inspirational player, Rick Pomeroy; Outstanding Back, Don Schur.

A 25-6 defeat to North Salem marked the final game of the '61 season. The Vikings launched a scoring drive from their own 21 yard line early in the first quarter and continued their hard drives until the fourth quarter, when South finally placed on the scoreboard.

Capitalizing on a North mistake, the Saxons scored on a run by Don Schur.

UUMPH !

'61 SEASON DISAPPOINTING TO SCRAPPY SAXONS

The 1961 season proved disappointing for the small, but scrappy Saxons. The season opener against the cross-town rival ended with the Saxons on the short end of a 28-6 score. In Kelso, the Saxons walked away with a solid 15-0 victory. This sent the Saxons into the first Corvallis game full of fire. It was a heartbreaker as a lack of extra points caused South to lose 13-12. The first league game was an upset as the disabled Huskies managed a 13-0 win over the confident Saxons. The team started a winning streak by taking a win over Albany 19-14 and then ripping through Lebanon 21-6. The second meeting with Corvallis was another heartbreaker as South lost the chance for second place when the Spartans slipped by 6-0. In the final game of the season, the Saxons again faced the North Salem Vikings who triumphed with a score of 25-6.

During the noon hour, volleyball, ping-pong, and basketball were offered to the boys. After school sports included cross-country, flag football, bowling, handball, track, and softball.

Under the guidance of the new coach, Mr. Kevin Morse, winning team efforts were launched against North Salem, McMinnville, Cascade, Molalla, Albany, and Corvallis. Losses were suffered to Sweethome, Lebanon, Estacada, Silverton, and Beaverton. The 1962 team captain was Kirk Morey.

SAXONS TAKE DISTRICT TITLE-UNDEFEATED

The district crown, a state tourney berth, an unblemished conference record, the individual high scorer of the district, and the first place rating in the Oregon press poll were but a few of the many laurels garnered by the 1962 Saxon basketball team.

Fifteen wins and no losses in conference play secured a berth at state tournament. This was the first time in the history of South that any school accomplished a no-loss record. Ed Maerz was high scorer in the district with a total of 272 points in conference play. Ed brought further recognition to the team by placing on the first team of the Oregon Journal all-state team. Jon Brack and Gary Allen both made the fifth team.

The two losses suffered by the team were in early exhibition games--one by two points to North Salem and one by three points to Sunset. After these first minor setbacks the Saxons won 18 games straight.

Able-bodied coaches spur Saxons to victories.

Larry Potts shows ball-handling ability by faking Larry Enos. Potts, being third tallest on the team, is outstanding under the backboards.

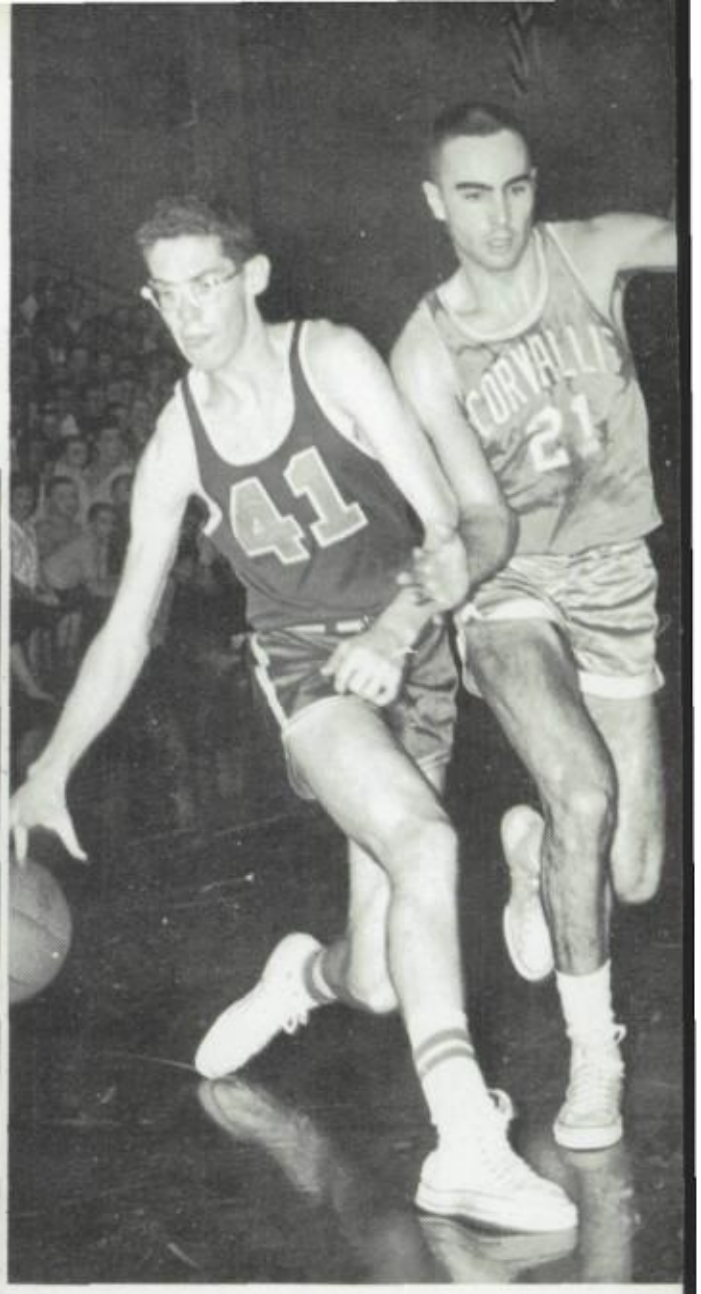

Ed Maerz takes a familiar pose under the basket. Ed, who is a senior, leads the team in rebounds and total points. Maerz, with a 17.4 average, was top scorer in the district for most of the season.

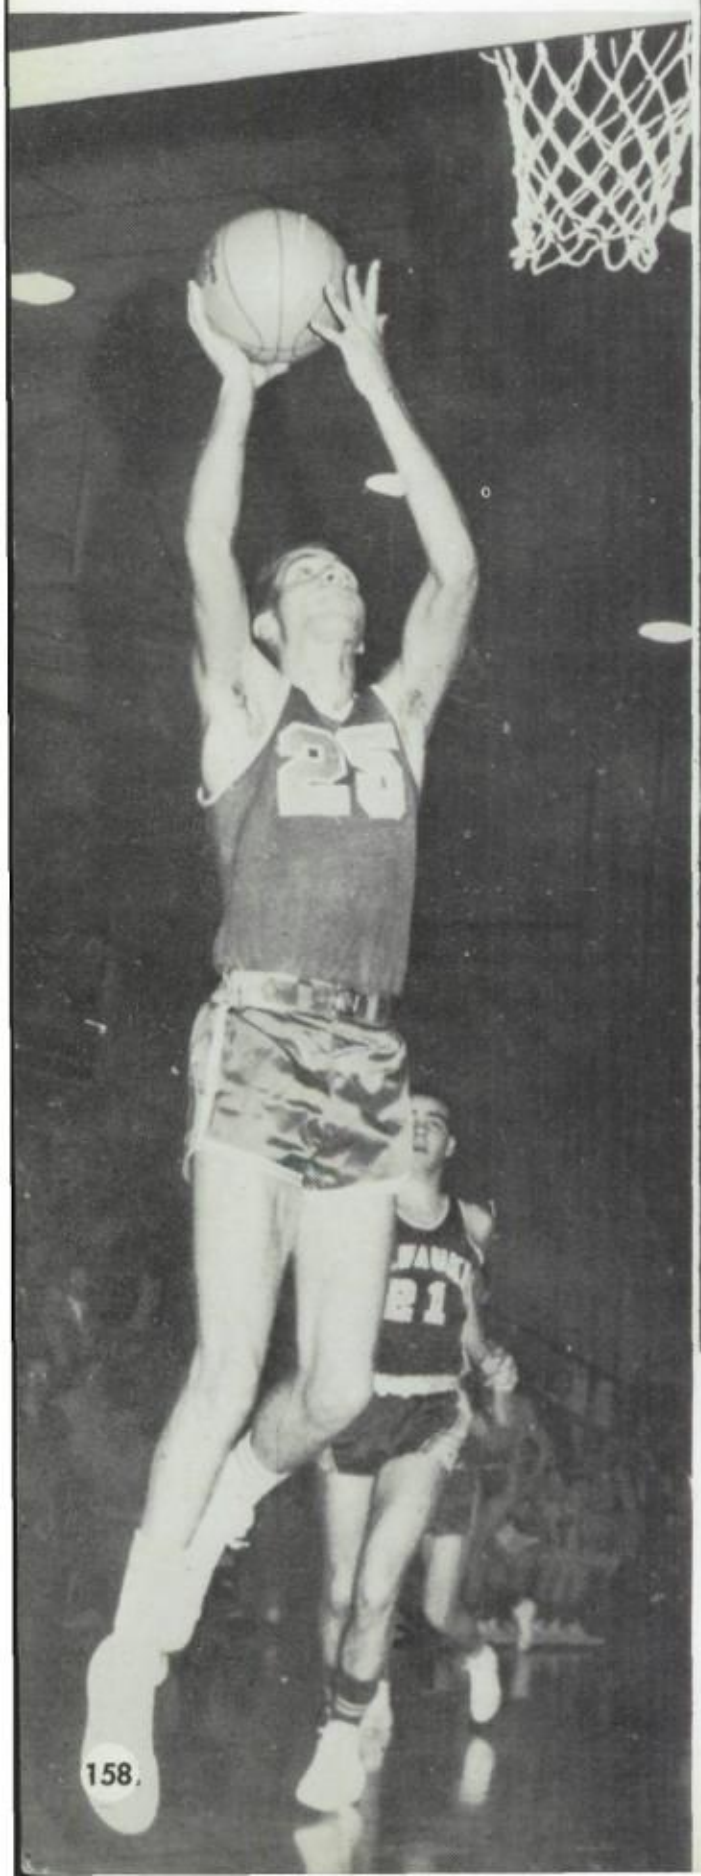

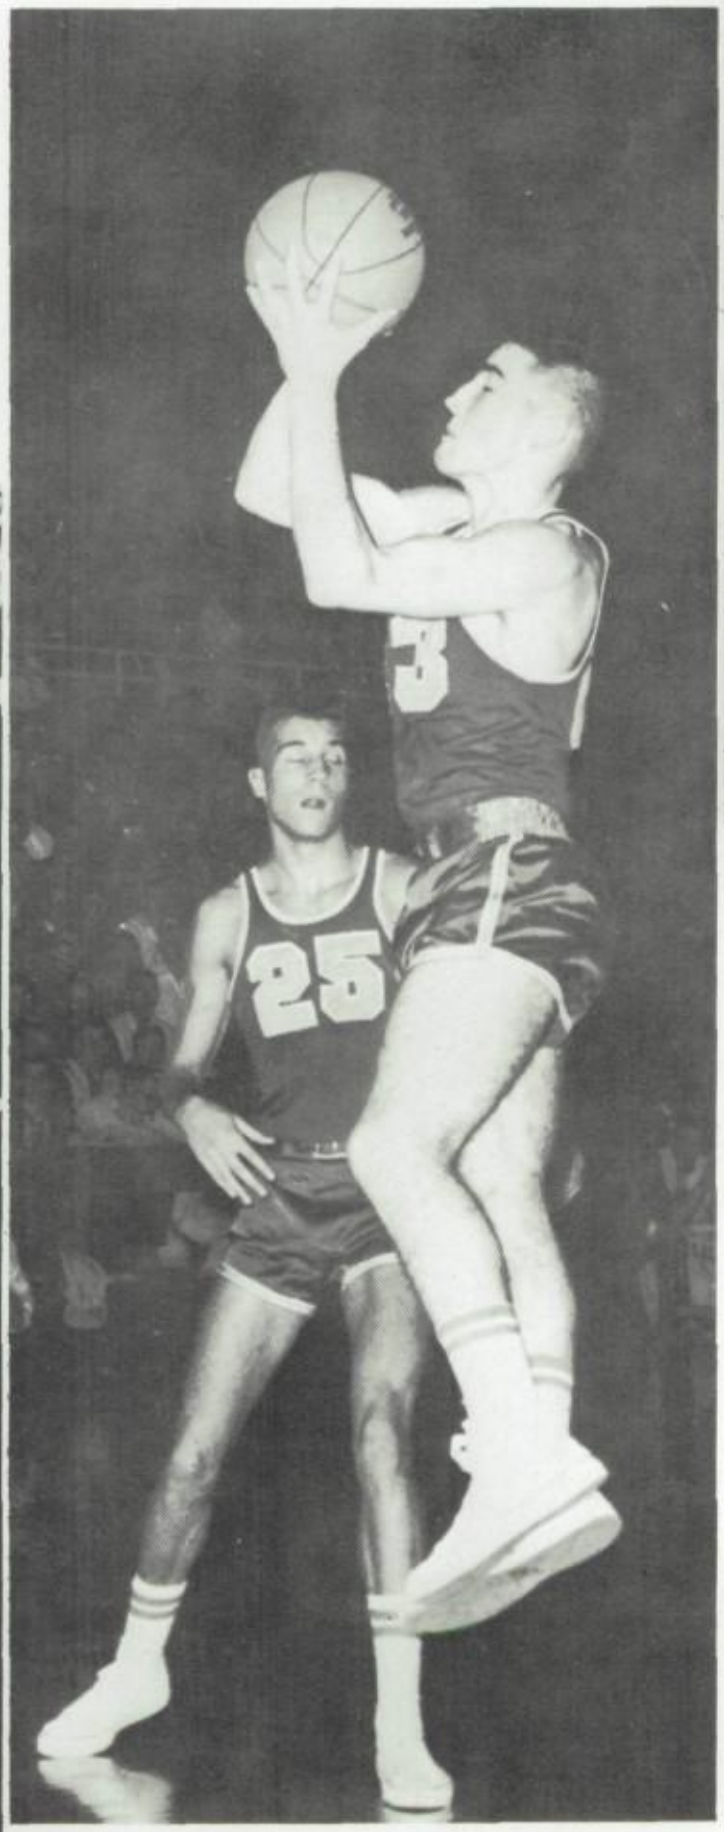

Jim Glodt goes up for a jump shot. Jim's ball handling ability can be attributed to his speed and consistency as a player.

THUNDER FLOOR THE

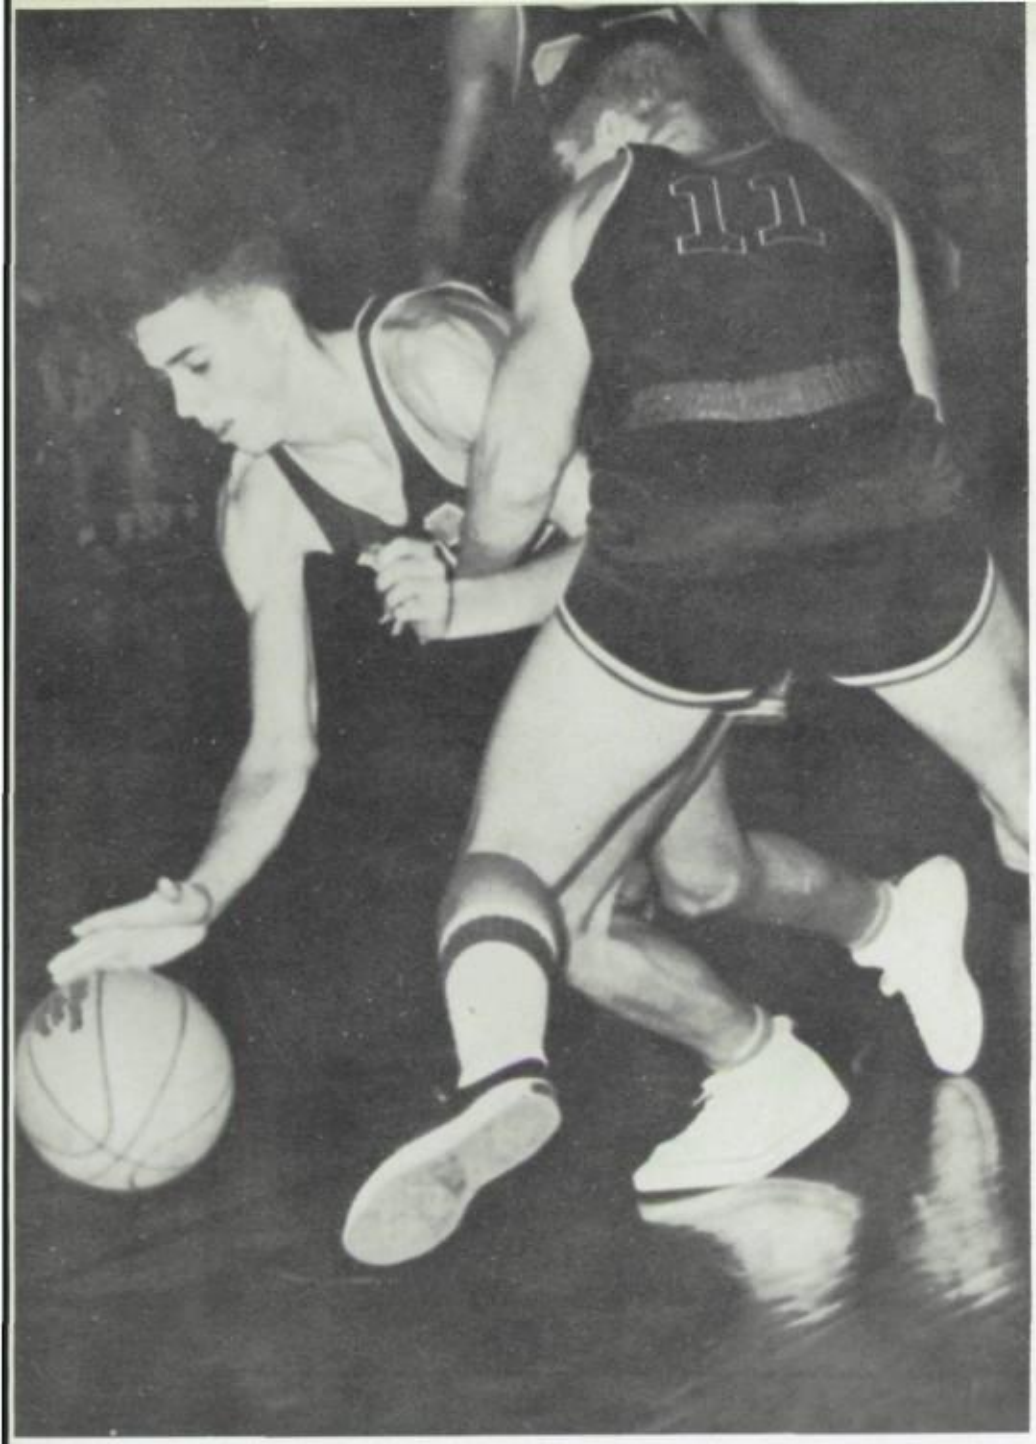

Jon Brack drives in for a basket. Jon is a key man at setting up plays. He specializes in stealing the ball from the opponent.

Gary Allen adds to his total points. Gary, a junior, has the best shooting percentage on the team.

RESERVES ADD DEPTH TO TEAM

Lynn Ertsgaard attempts a long shot. Lynn's percentage at the foul line is second only to Maerz's.

Warren Kellicut puts up a hook shot. The only sophomore on the squad, Warren shows promise for future Saxon teams.

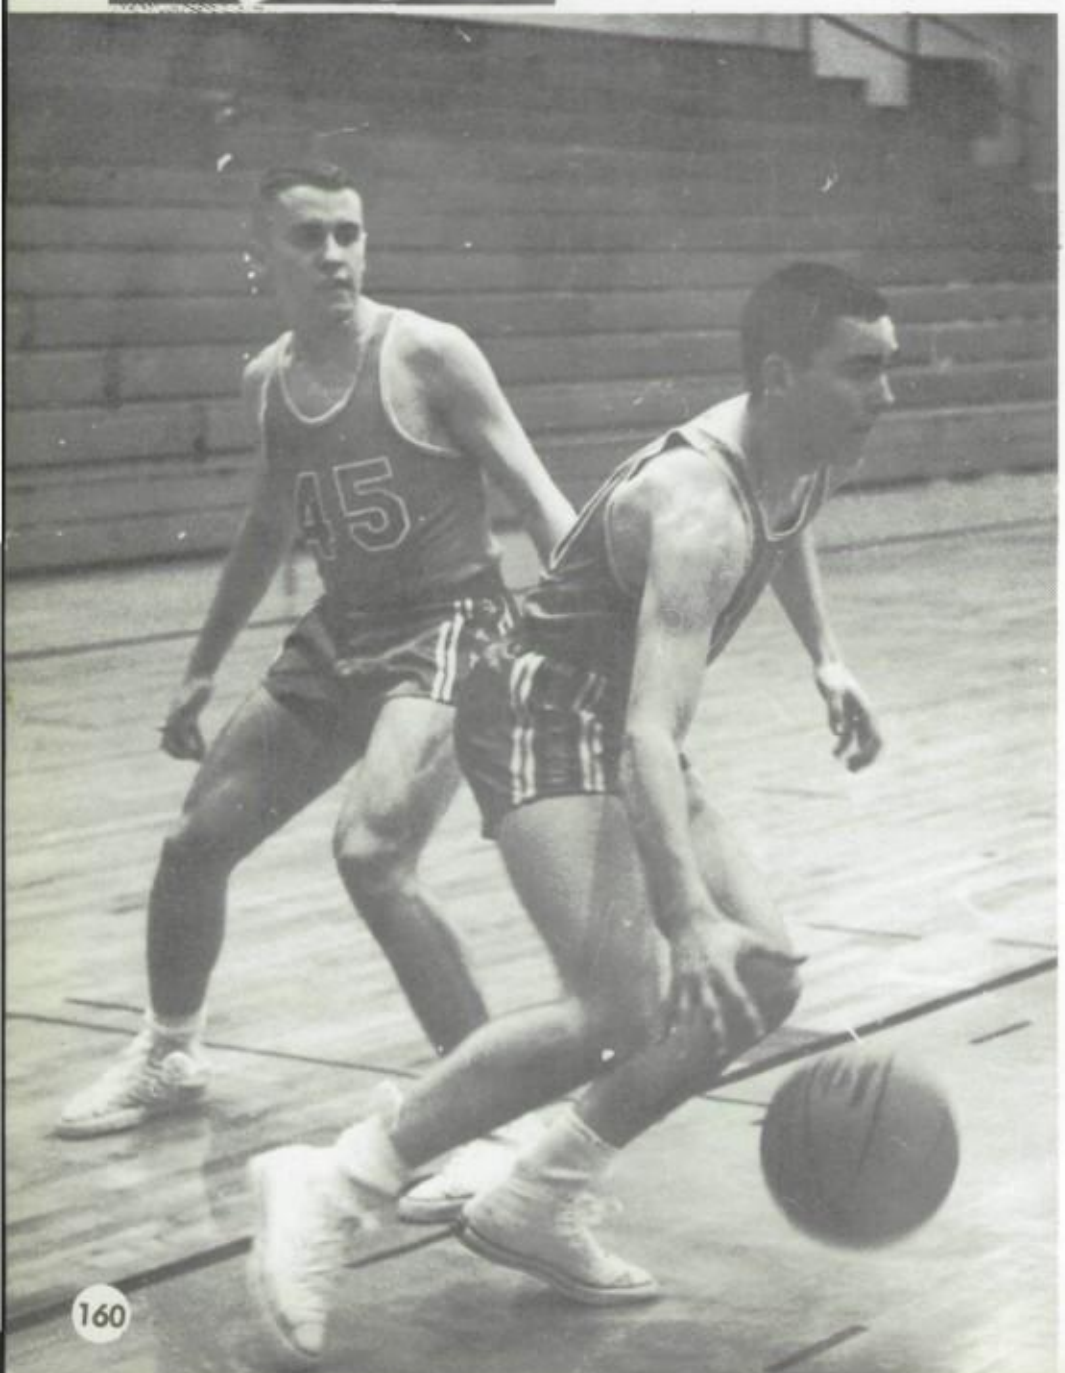

Glen Johnson prepares himself for a play. Glen proved to be a consistent player and a good prospect.

Steve Busick and Wayne Metzger show team work in many of the various plays used throughout the games. Steve, a senior, and Wayne, a junior, have added reserve strength to the team.

J.V. SAXONS SHOW PROMISE FOR FUTURE

Don goes up for another one.

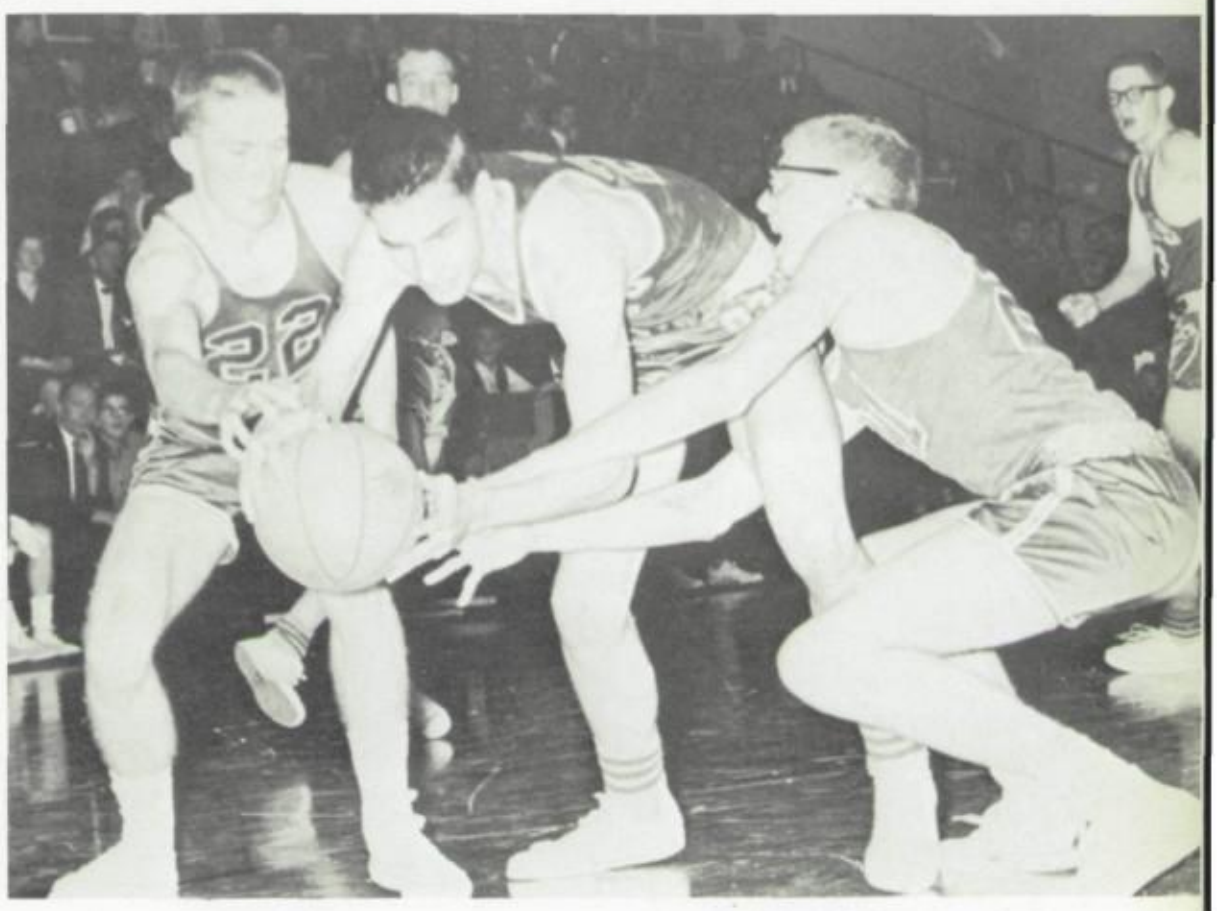

They always get that ball one way or another.

The 1962 J.V. basketball team gave proof of following their "big brothers'" footsteps by completing a successful season. Late in the season, the Saxon J.V.'s held second place and were in contention for a possible tie with a record of 14 wins to 5 losses. Defeats were to South Eugene and Sunset in non-league play and to North Salem, Corvallis, and Albany in district play.

A packed Saxon rooting section showed the existing enthusiasm as South Salem rooters turned out to cheer their team on to a third victory over the highly-rated Corvallis Quintet. Excitement ran high before the game and made a steady rise until the final gun. Play was fast and close, and quarter scores stood at 17-13, 28-33, and 40-42; the final score, 54-52. This third defeat of the 2nd place Spartons assured the Saxons of a berth in the 1962 tournament.
